

Harwell enjoys a successful night at the Business Continuity Awards!

Business Continuity Awards winner

We are pleased to announce that Harwell Document Restoration Services won the Specialist Disaster Recovery and Business Continuity Service Provider of 2009 at the recent awards ceremony in London.

The award “rewards innovation, quality, customer service and satisfaction in bespoke providers of business continuity and disaster recovery solutions”.

The judges commented that Harwell were clear winners, who “consistently demonstrated the required qualities in a number of projects undertaken over the last year”. Ken McKenzie, Harwell’s Technical Manager paid tribute to his dedicated, hard-working staff: “We certainly couldn’t have won this award without their skills, positive attitude to the challenges of disaster recovery projects, and constant commitment to the company and our highly-valued clients.

Clear winners

Harwell were also finalists in the category “Most Effective Recovery of the Year”, for the project carried out after the Leigh County Court fire. This award also adds to the success in 2007 when Emma Dadson was named Business Continuity Consultant of the Year.

Over 800 organisations already retain Harwell’s services for disaster recovery. If you would like to find out more about , please email or call today.
